

Song of the Nations

David Kahiapo

As the Nations of the world come in And sing their song to You
You receive them with your outstretched arms and tell them "I love you"

The mountains and the seas join in A voice cries from the land
For the life of every living thing
O Lord is in your hand

From the North, the South, East and West
They come to heed Your call
As they dance the dance you've given them
May your awesome glory fall
